Religion /Worldview: Christianity Theme: Incarnation, God the Son	This is our Key Question:	Could Jesus heal people?	Age: Year 3 SPRING 1

This is what I am going to learn.	Here are the words that I need to understand, use and spell
●To know what a miracle is. ●I know that Jesus healed the leper and that this was a miracle. ●I know that Jesus healed the blind man and that this was a miracle. I know that Jesus heled the paralysed man and that this was a miracle.	 leprosy	 baths	healing 	Health blindness saliva sickness leper miracle paralysed injury

At the end of this key question learning, I will write

Working towards	I think a miracle is when something amazing happens Jesus healed a leper man so Christians might think he is really powerful because that usually can't be healed I think the mixture that he put on the blind man's eyes might have healed him
Working at the expected age	I think when doctors perform surgeries which could heal people when that wasn't possible before, that is a miracle. It might just be that science or medicine has got better, but to the person who was ill, it must feel like a miracle Many Christians would believe that Jesus could and did heal the leper because he had special powers. They believe these powers came from God and Jesus had them as well If Jesus was as powerful as God then he could definitely have healed those people. I suppose it depends on whether you believe that he was. I think his life shows he had special powers so he must have got them from somewhere
Working at greater depth	Even though some medical miracles can be explained, there is still lots of things that can't be explained. Like when people invent a completely new idea or discover something that was never thought of before. A miracle would be stopping something like cancer because there is still no cure for every type and people die Christians might believe Jesus could heal or do anything because he was God incarnate, that means God in human form I think a Christian who believes in God and the incarnation would say that Jesus was using his powers as much as he could to help people because that is what he came on earth to do. I am not really sure but I know if you have positive thoughts and you trust the people trying to help you, that can often make things better so maybe these people felt better because Jesus was special to them and he touched them
